The Maily News

LITTLE MUNIE'S WISH,

I wish this war was ended
And father was at home,
Then mother would not ory so much—Oh! why don't father come?

But, why, I cannot tell,

She makes no more new dother for me,

liut sews on clother to sell.

I'm sura my mother loves ma.

asked her once about it, But mother would not speak

She only sitesand me to her brows:

While tars fell on my cheek.

I'm sure there's something very bad
Has happened, for I know My mother did not do this way
About twelve months ago.

I am too young to reason much, But think it very strangs, That just because dear father's gone

That everything should change.

For since he went away the man

That used to bring us bread, Has ceased to come along this way-I'm thinking he is dead!

And try some other men; She sighed, and then came down has cheek

Big tears, like drops of rain,

Ma used to have nice furniture,

I wish this war was ended,

I see the milk-man still goes by, But why, I cannot tell; He will not stop at our house,

Nor even ring his bell.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, 7 Providence, July, 5, 1862. Providence, July, 5, 1892.

A PROCLAMATION.

CITIZENS OF HINDE JELAND:—In the present crisis of our national affairs, no good Union-loving citizen can look upon passing events with apathy and indifference. We are confronted by a bold, unsequention and unprincipled enemy in the field, in great strength, who; with almost barbarien ferocity, makes wathon our Government and our institutions; who would deateny our liberties, and reduce us to the condition of seris of a military despotism. To triumph at once over this lawless horde of rebels, and to restore peace and prosperity to our now distracted country, the Government absolutely requires an augumentation of our military force. Hindow, Jerandal to this call-Let no consideration stand between us and the duty we was to our country. Let no secrifice be thought too great ao be offered on the selar of our acountry. Carry out A PROCLAMATION. sacrince he thought too great to be offered on the alter of our accuracy. Carry out the good weak you have so nobly begue, and so nobly prosecuted; and by all means, let us give to the great and glorious cause all the aid the exigencies demand. More troops are wanted. Let them be furnished terthwith.

REBEL CONSCRIPTION. When the conscription act was passed by the Confederate Congress, several menths ago, it was sufficiently demonstrative of the utter desperateness of the cause championed by the secession leaders, considered as leaders in a " popular revolt." The very conception of such a measure, and especially the remorasless military despotism which it established, served conclusively to show that the arder of the people had ceased to be a sale reliance in the conduct of the war. Accordingly a resort was had to the expedient of military despotisms throughout the world, that of consoription. The war carried on by the Southern insurgents is some times called by its partisans." the second war of Amerbe confidently effirmed that at no time and in no extremity did the patriot statesmen and soldiers of our Revolution ever stoop to adopt such a poli-

We have already stated that the exactions of the conscription law, establishing as it notually does a consolidated government, founded on military principles, has encountered a deep sentiment of opposition in some parts of the selfstyled Southern Confederacy. Called to meet the objections formally urged against the constitutionality of the measure by the Governor of Georgia. Gen, Jefferson Davis, in a lutter addressed to that functionary, thus discloses the consideration of military noocsaity on which the passage of the son oription act might be defended :

"I would have very little difficulty in establishing to your entire natisfaction that the passage of the law was more only necessary, but that it was absointely indispensable; that numerous regiment of twelve-months man were on the eve of being disbanded, whose places could not be supplied by raw levies in the Musical Institute. the place of superior numbers of the for, without entailing the most disastrous LETTER FROM ONE OF THE SOL results; that the position of our armies was so critical as to fill the bosom of overy pairios with the liveliest apprethe law were effective in warding of a pressing danger; but I prefer to answer your objections on other and broader grounds."

The militia could not be called forth in such case, the right to call it being limited to repel invasion. Is it not plain that the ten now under discussion, if passed under, seek circomatances, could by no possi bility be thought less than a law to raise an army? Can one and the same law he construed into called forth to repel invasion, we should be attarly helpless to vindicate our hon-or or protect, our rights. War has been well styled the terrible litigation of nations. Have we so formed our Government that in litigation we may never be plaintiff? Surely this can-not have been the intention of the framers of our compact."

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

APPAIRS AT THE GROVE .- We are glad to be informed that matters at the Grove are assuming a more encouraging appear ance, although now, far from what would be lesirable is some respects. The articles which we noted in our article of Wedneeday, have been forwarded both, by the Mayor and by individuals. The bread taken up and buttered, and given put to the men, was greedily deroured, especially, by those or ship board.

We hope, however, soon to be able to record the pleasing fact that the last man has been landed and duly provided for It really gratifies any one, possessed of the least kindness of heart, to witness the grateful willingness with which every needed article of lood or raimont is recelred by these men. They have perilled their lives, for all that we hold dear, and God forbid that we should make so ungrateful a return as to stand by unmoved and see them suffer for any comfort, or even necessary of life. They have perilled their livee, and against such a stake we can offset nothing in the way of this Henry T. Buffington world's goods, that will for a moment, Chas. C. Beatty weigh in the halance. To be ungrateful to the soldier who rushes voluntarily into the perits of the bettle field to rescue the flag of his country from danger and insult and uphold the Constitution and pre- Chas. F. The Government Punishing its Friends -Mr. Fulton, the editor of the Baltimore American, has written an account of his two days incarcefation at Fort McHenry, by which it would appear that in some cases, his own in particular, the government is more prompt in punishing its friends than its enemies. At the close of his statement we find the following paragraph : What rendered this ar est and the rigor and orders accompanying it more inexplicable to us was the fact that for lifteer able to us was the tool that for lifeen months past we have it ten the trouble, almost daily, to keep the Departments advised by telegraph of end important news that came into our possession. We have voluntarily rendered the government more proportion of the property of voluntarily rendered the government more service than many of the salerised and titled officials. But enough—we here drop the subject, and until we can learn to fawn and flatter, and submit quietly to personal indigatities, we shall not again voluntarily seek intercourse with those who have thus shown their willingness in play the tyrant.

FOR BRAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brillinacy making it and and silky in its texture and causing it to cur readily.
The great celebrity and the increasing demind for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprieter that, one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at preent in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, cautees the hair to grow fururiantly, and gives it a rioh, soft, glossy and fictible appearancy in also where the hair is loosening and thinning, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and reslove the growth to those parts which have become hald, causing it to yield a freah covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had thoir hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations hed fatted. It has in his possession lettlers innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the intest prepind of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed the color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainly restorit to its original hus, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume lor the tolket and the great facilities it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable faggenee; and the great facilities it affords in dicessing the
